Case No.:

Supervisors attending the Project Defence

According to the e-mail from Anne Larsson, the Faculty of Engineering and Science, dated 10 January 2018, the Study Board of Energy can approve that only one of more supervisors attends the project defence.

In cases where there are two supervisors or more, the Study Board considers it completely justifiable that only one of the supervisors attends the project defence if they complement each other during the project work. Furthermore, if a supervisor is unable to participate in the entire project defence, then he or she must not attend at all and thus not be part of the marking procedure.

The Study Board grants the possibility that not all supervisors are needed to be present at the project defence, if, and only if, the academic competences of the missing supervisor are covered by the supervisor that is present at the exam.

The exemption will be available at the homepage of the Study Board.
