Study board conclusions of the semester and teaching evaluation report

|              |               |
|--------------|---------------|
| Year:        | 2022          |
| Campus       | Copenhagen    |
| Semester     | SSD8          |
| Coordinator: | Luca Simeone  |
| Date:        | November 2022 |

This document represents the public version of the evaluation of the semester. The document forms together with the semester and teaching evaluation report the basis of any adjustments to the semester's description, planning, execution and/or evaluation of the next iteration of the semester and are used by the coming semester coordinator and semester planning group.

The document also represents the study board's response to the students, teachers, coordinators and other interested parties about possible consequences of conditions that the students of the semester have pointed out.

The public conclusions and recommendations of the semester coordinator

In general, the students greatly appreciated this semester and its workshop-based, hands-on quality. The students felt that key aspects of the semester were well communicated and managed. The brief for the semester project was deemed as a good occasion to tinker with theoretical frameworks and practical methods taught during the semester. The students also noted some areas of improvement, which the semester coordinator and the teachers should consider for the next editions of SSD8:

- The students suggested a more regular schedule across the weeks, so that their studies can be more easily integrated with their student jobs; information on internships should come at the beginning of the semester
- The PBL course should be more anchored to the specificities of SSD
- The User Participation and Social Innovation course could highlight better how it is linked to the context of service design
- Technological and Organizational Trends should emphasize the common thread connecting the various topics touched during the course
- As for Services Representation and Prototyping, the first workshop could be run in-person and the second workshop should be geared towards presenting a broader and more hand-on perspective on prototyping

The students also suggested some areas of improvement related to the study environment:

- It would be nice to have a projector or some larger displays in the studio
- The software platform for the internship needs to be redesigned to be more user-friendly and all the bugs should be fixed
- The lecture room 0.090A was cold and there were not enough sockets.

Conclusion of the study board

The Study Board (MSN) has processed the semester evaluation report and offers the following observations/conclusions:

- Response rate: 6/36. MSN is going to actively push for a modernization of the survey to achieve much higher response rates
- MSN is concerned with the low self-reported weekly workload
- The poor evaluation of the PBL course appears to be a general thing across all 8th semesters. MSN will follow up
